Oh, I hope you know, I will carry you __home____
Whether it's tonight or fifty-five years down the __road____
Oh, I know there's so many ways that this could go
Don't want you to wonder, darling, I need you to know
We were talking to the __sunset____
Throwing dreams against the wall
I know none of them have stuck yet
But I bet it on you, honey
Oh, I would risk it all
These days, these __nights____ are changing
My love, my mind is set on you
I'm not __afraid____ to say it
To say it's true
Oh, I hope you know, I will carry you home
Whether it's __tonight____ or fifty-five years down the road
Oh, I know there's so many ways that this could go
Don't want you to wonder, darling, I need you to know
In this and every life
I choose us every time
We were ____California____ dreaming

Our whole life fit in that ____car____
Didn't have a bed to sleep in
We kept each other warm under a ceiling full of _stars____
These days, these nights are changing
My love, my mind is set on you
I'm not afraid to say it
To say I do
Oh, I hope you know, I will carry you home
Whether it's tonight or ____55____ years down the road
Oh, I know there's so many ways that this could go
Don't want you to wonder, darling, I need you to know
In this and every life
I choose us every time
Oh, I hope you know, I will carry you home
Whether it's tonight or fifty-five years down the road
