

Fortunately / Unfortunately

We will switch back and forth, starting each sentence with fortunately or unfortunately to make a story.

Example:

1. Fortunately, it was Saturday and Sam could sleep in.
 2. Unfortunately, his neighbors woke him up!
 3. Fortunately, They were having a water gun fight and they asked him to play with them.
-

Scenario 1

Fortunately, we got the cats.

Unfortunately, Amy died.

Fortunately, we like playing with the cats.

Unfortunately, the cats climb on the sofa.

Fortunately, Amy is in heaven.

Scenario 2

Fortunately, I am having a baby girl.

Unfortunately, my baby kicks me and it feels weird and sometimes I can't sleep.

Fortunately, she is healthy.

Unfortunately, my back hurts.

Fortunately, we are very excited.

Scenario 3

Unfortunately, my dad said no to the other dog.

Fortunately, my dad said yes to Dory.

Unfortunately, I got sick.

Fortunately, I took medicine and got better.

Unfortunately, we didn't play too much on Saturday.

Scenario 4

Unfortunately,

Fortunately,

Unfortunately,

Fortunately,

Unfortunately,